

The FCC has NO right to ammend or alter a State law designed to protect this states consumers. Federal law may be established and States must abide, however, States may impose more strict limitations. wisconsin has done just that with 80% participation. Please leave our telemarketing law alone, we like it just the way it is! Tom Geitner